

Investment PHILOSOPHY

The philosophy behind FCI's fixed income investment strategy is the belief that bond portfolios represent the more stable portion of an overall investment allocation and are primarily utilized to offset the volatility of riskier assets such as equities. It is not our approach, therefore, to squeeze out the last bit of return from some of the less liquid or riskier corners of the bond market. Instead, our philosophy is to employ a time-tested disciplined investment process to construct a high-quality portfolio which is suitable for the given set of market conditions.

Investment OBJECTIVE

FCI's fixed income investment strategy seeks to deliver superior returns relative to the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Government/Credit A+ Rated Index over a market cycle, while limiting the risk incurred by maintaining a high credit profile. We strive to consistently move the portfolio in the direction of best opportunities while reducing the potential of a significantly negative credit event.

Investment STRATEGY

FCI's investment strategy involves employing a time-tested, disciplined investment process which combines multiple stages of active management, each of which considers aspects of fundamental, behavioral, and technical analysis.

Duration management is utilized to position the portfolio to deliver the highest return potential according to the outlook for interest rates and term-structure as determined by the firm's Fixed Income Investment Committee. Overall duration risk is limited to a 20% deviation relative to the identified benchmark. With regard to sectors within the high-grade universe, allocations are incrementally emphasized or reduced based on the Committee's assessment of return potential and the risk inherent in each. After careful analysis is performed to determine credit worthiness and relative valuation opportunities, individual issues are then selected to construct portfolios.

Employing fundamental, behavioral, and technical analysis along all stages of our investment process allows the firm's managers to have a forward-looking, three dimensional approach to the construction of client portfolios.
